Afterschool for Children and Teens

Policy Updates

Proposed Public Charge Rule

On September 22nd, the Trump administration announced a proposed rule that would make it harder to obtain visas or green cards for immigrants who use public benefits programs like food assistance and Section 8 housing vouchers. The move will mainly affect legal immigrants and their families, as undocumented immigrants are not eligible for most federal benefits. The new rule could force millions of low-income families to choose between government assistance and permanent settlement in the United States. This could ultimately restrict children's access to necessary services, like Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) which is used to fund the Child Care Assistance Program (CCAP).

The proposed rule will be officially published in the Federal Register in the coming weeks. Once the proposed rule is officially published, the public will be able to comment on the proposed rule. The comment period will last 60 days, starting on the day the proposed rule is published in the Federal Register. Click here to view full text of the proposed rule.
