Federal Updates

FY20 Appropriations Update

On Thursday, September 12th, the Senate Appropriations Committee voted along party lines to virtually freeze funding for the fiscal year (FY) 2020 Labor-HHS-Education appropriations bill at the current FY 2019 level. Due to a number of disagreements between members, the Labor-HHS-Education (LHHS) spending bill was not marked up last week, however a draft bill, summary, and report language were released to the public by the Appropriations Committee on September 18th. In the posted bill, which likely will be used to negotiate with the House-passed LHHS bill, 21st Century Community Learning Center (21st CCLC) funding for afterschool and summer learning programs was frozen at last year's level of $1.222 billion. Governance Structures for Afterschool Systems

Many cities organize program providers, municipal agencies, schools, funders and other stakeholders into afterschool systems, on the theory that children will be better served. The insights on these governance structures from a major Wallace Foundation initiative are captured in this brief report. Three models for governance emerged from this research: governance based in a local government agency, governance housed in a nonprofit organization, and governance from a networked arrangement tapping several different institutions.
