ACT Now Statement on Events of March 16, 2021

ACT Now stands with the AAPI (Asian American Pacific Islander) community and condemns the rise in anti-AAPI violence that has surged since the beginning of the pandemic and the devastating events in Georgia last week. It is with a heavy heart that we write to you, our members, for a third time in less than a year condemning acts of violence in our county. However, we think it is important to continue to make our stance on issues of hate and violence very clear and also reach out to the afterschool community to offer support as you are an essential support network in protecting our youth from bullying, hate, and violence.

A few points we want to underscore:

1. We must stand with and support our AAPI colleagues, communities, and youth.
2. Anti-AAPI hate should be a part of our antiracism work.
3. Referring to the Coronavirus as the "Chinese virus" or "Kung flu" is hate speech. The prevalence of these phrases in mainstream media is harmful to our youth and their families and promotes bullying.
4. There is a long held American history of using Asian Americans as scapegoats for diseases. Further, this rise in hate is not new and isolated and to address this hate we must acknowledge that history.

We have included resources in regards to this work in the resources section of this newsletter. I encourage you all to take an active role in this work. One small step I am taking personally is participating in a training on bystander intervention for anti-Asian hate. ACT Now welcomes you to reach out to discuss these events and share resources with us as well.

In Solidarity,

Susan Stanton, Network Lead

Center for Disease Control and Prevention: Updated Guidance for K-12 Institutions on Social Distancing in Classrooms

On March 19, 2021, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) announced that it has updated its operational strategy guide for K-12 schools in order to reflect new evidence on physical distancing within classrooms. The CDC stated that:

- With universal masking, students should maintain a distance of at least 3 feet in classroom settings.
- In elementary schools, CDC recommends all students remain at least 3 feet apart in classrooms where mask use is universal — regardless of whether community transmission is low, moderate, substantial, or high.
- In middle and high schools, CDC also recommends students should be at least 3 feet apart in classrooms where mask use is universal and in communities where transmission is low, moderate, or substantial.
- Middle school students and high school students should be at least 6 feet apart in communities where transmission is high, if cohorting is not possible.

The Chicago Board of Education will vote tomorrow on this proposal. Under this new start date, educators would return to school on August 18, 2021. CPS has also extended the date for families to choose whether their child(ren) return(s) to in-person learning for the fourth quarter, which begins April 19, 2021, as part of its staggered reopening plan. For the first time in over a year, high school families also have that option. The district has set a target high school reopening date of April 19, 2021, pending the outcome of negotiations with Chicago Teachers Union (CTU). The school district will expend this aid over the course of three years and aims to expand the number of behavioral support teams from 200 schools to approximately 500 across school sites. Overall, CPS is looking to reinforce its support service teams with onboarding social workers, school counselors, and
