ACT Now Statement to our Membership

In the past year, ACT Now has written to its members to address issues of racism, discrimination, violence, and police brutality. As an organization that acts as a voice for afterschool in Illinois, we feel it is our responsibility to continue to make our stance on these issues known, to hold space for those members and communities most affected, and to encourage action.

The verdict in the trial of Derek Chauvin is a step towards accountability for the police brutality that has affected communities throughout the country for hundreds of years. However, we are also still processing and mourning the death of Daunte Wright, the death of Adam Toledo (aged 13), the death of Jaslyn Adams (aged 7), the death of Ma'Khia Bryant (aged 16), mass shootings in numerous cities across the country and the fact that we have endemic issues of racial equity and violence in our society, which stop our children from realizing their potential. Black Lives Matter. We need police reform. Our policymakers must take swift action to address gun violence in our country.

ACT Now is proud of the programs with whom we work and the programming they run that serves diverse populations throughout the state. We must continue to serve our youth with a focus on diversity, equity, and inclusion and examine these competencies in our own organizations and in ourselves as individuals. We encourage you to use your voice and speak the names of the people who have lost their lives due to racism, gun violence, and police brutality.

We are actively working on strategies to assist programs in their antiracism work and look forward to sharing that work with you in the future. In the meantime, please reach out to us with any thoughts, resources, or perspectives you would like to share with us.

In Solidarity,
ACT Now Coalition

U.S. Senate: Bipartisan Summer Meals Act Introduced in Senate

This month, Senators Kirsten Gillibrand (D- New York) and Lisa Murkowski (R- Alaska) introduced the bipartisan Summer Meals Act (S. 1170), which is similar to the U.S. House of Representative's version (H.R. 783) that was proposed this year by Representatives Rick Larson (D - Washington) and Don Young (R- Alaska). The Summer Meals Act aims to:

- Lower the threshold to allow areas with 40 percent or more of students receiving free or reduced lunch to be eligible for the program, rather than the current threshold of 50 percent. This would make the meals programs consistent with the eligibility for summer learning programs provided through the 21st Century Community Learning Centers program.
- Reduce the paperwork burden for meal program sponsors and streamline the application process for programs operating year round.
- Improve nutrition in rural, underserved, and hard to reach areas by providing transportation grants for underserved areas to get children to summer meal sites and by promoting innovative ways to increase children's access to summer meals, such as through mobile meal trucks.
- Offer sites the option of serving two meals and a snack or three meals to children who attend evening enrichment programs during the school year and summer months.
- Allow Summer Nutrition Program providers to serve food to children after emergencies or disasters and be reimbursed if the meals are taken offsite.

Tell your legislators that this Act must pass in order to provide healthy meals to youth throughout the summer and support families! To take action and send the Afterschool Alliance's alert, click here.
