President Biden's Administration: FY22 Discretionary Budget Request Released

On April 9, 2021, President Joseph Biden released the FY 2022 discretionary budget request, which features the topline appropriations levels for each governmental agency. However, these appropriation levels are not mandatory spending and revenue policies. Rather, the Biden Administration will release the mandatory request and revenue proposals, along with the program-level budget numbers for FY 2022 discretionary funding (including 21st CCLC funding) later this spring when the Administration submits its full budget request to Congress. The President's 2022 discretionary request includes:

- $102.8 billion for the Department of Education. This is a $29.8 billion or 41-percent increase over the 2021 enacted level.
- $36.5 billion for Title I grants, or a $20 billion increase compared to the 2021 enacted level. Notably, Title I funding can be used for afterschool and summer programming.
- $1 billion, in addition to the resources in the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021, to increase the number of counselors, nurses, and mental health professionals in school.
- $413 million in funding for Community Schools. This increase in Community Schools funding brings the total amount to $443 million, a historic level of funding.
- $19.8 billion for Health and Human Services' early care and education programs, which is an increase of $2.8 billion over the 2021 enacted level. This includes $7.4 billion for the Child Care and Development Block Grant, an increase of $1.5 billion over the 2021 enacted level to expand access to quality, affordable child care for families across the United States.

President Biden's Administration: American Jobs Plan and the American Family Plan Announced

Last week, President Joseph Biden announced the first part of his Administration's Build Back Better infrastructure plan called the American Jobs Plan. This plan aims to invest more than $200 billion in education and education-related infrastructure. Potential funding includes:

- $100 billion to upgrade and build new public schools, through $50 billion in direct grants and an additional $50 billion leveraged through bonds. There is currently a bill

(Rebuild America's Schools Act) in the House and Senate, that hosts provisions for the construction of community learning centers as part of new or renovated school facilities.

- $25 billion to help upgrade child care facilities and increase the supply of child care in areas that need it most. While the proposal specifies infrastructure for infant and toddler care, school-age care providers have also indicated a need for support.

Finally, President Biden also unveiled the American Family Plan, will be released in the coming weeks and is expected to include a number of priorities including a major expansion in health insurance coverage, subsidies for child care and free access to community colleges, and more. This is the second part of the Build Back Better Plan.

President Biden's Administration: Paycheck Protection Program Extended

Last week, President Joseph Biden signed legislation to extend the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) until May 31, 2021. In order to learn more about this extension and how to access funding for your organization before the new deadline, click here.

U.S. Department of Education: COVID-19 Handbook, Volume 2 Released

On April 9, 2021, the U.S. Department of Education released the COVID-19 Handbook, Volume 2: Roadmap to Reopening Safely and Meeting All Students' Needs to provide educators, child care and afterschool program providers with additional strategies for safely reopening. Another goal of this handbook is to promote educational equity by addressing opportunity gaps that have been exacerbated by the pandemic. This handbook also specifies ways American Rescue Plan (ESSER III) funds can be used. Allowable uses include:

- Addressing the impact of lost instructional time by supporting the implementation of evidence-based interventions that respond to students' social, emotional, and academic needs
- Providing afterschool, or other out-of-school time, programs that address students' social, emotional, and academic needs
- Addressing the mental health needs of students, including through using funds to hire counselors and support staff
- Providing integrated student supports, including through the use of full-service community schools
- Providing students with evidence-based summer learning and enrichment programs, including through partnerships with community-based organizations.
