Policy Updates

Federal Updates

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's New Quarantine Recommendation for Schools

On January 6, 2022, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention \(CDC\), announced its recommendation to reduce the number of days for isolation and quarantine for school personnel and students to five days. Both the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH) and the Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE) have adopted this guidance as it applies to school settings. To read more about this isolation period and what it means for schools, click here.

State Updates

Chicago Public Schools Closed for the Fourth Day due to Concerns over COVID-19 Protocols

Yesterday evening, January 10, 2022, Chicago Public Schools \(CPS\), Chicago Teachers Union \(CTU\), and the City of Chicago, came to an agreement after days of discussions around COVID-19, safety protocols and personal protection equipment, testing, re-entrance to school buildings, and the facilitation of classes. Yesterday, also marked day four of canceled classes for students across the district. Some schools within CPS worked to provide enrichment opportunities for students throughout the week, while others had to close, causing many families to scramble to find child care opportunities. CPS did not allow for virtual learning during this time. Late last night, CPS announced that schools will reopen tomorrow. To read more about the agreement, click here.

National Mentoring Month - STEM Opportunities for Youth

January marks National Mentoring Month and calls attention to the need for educational programs to support youth mentoring opportunities. Research shows girls in particular benefit from relationships with role models and mentors who can provide valuable information about STEM careers. The National Girls Collaborative Project (NGCP) has compiled several mentoring resources:

- FabFems: A collection of resources for role models, educators, and families to inspire and educate girls about STEM courses and careers.
- National Mentoring Resource Center: A collection of mentoring resources including handbooks, curricula, manuals, and other resources that practitioners can use to implement and further develop program practices.
- SciGirls Role Model Strategies: These resources help to encourage girls to consider STEM careers and offer basic training for role models, introducing them to best practices for their volunteer efforts.
- Techbridge: Role Model Training and Resources are available to help develop skills to engage girls and underrepresented youth in STEM through guides, videos, and questions.
- GirlsTechBoss: This organization strives to empower girls and non-binary individuals to pursue careers in STEM and entrepreneurship through access to resources and role models.
